

Information for Making Powers of Attorney

The information that you are about to provide will be the basis for your discussions about your personal planning in the event you are mentally or physically incapable of managing your own affairs and/or make your own decisions regarding your health and welfare. Your choice of attorney is to be made while you are under no pressure from your attorney or anyone else.

By executing a Continuing Power of Attorney for Property, you are giving the person named in it authority to deal with your finances and other legal matters on your behalf. Your attorney should be someone you know well, trust completely, who is interested only in your best interests, and who is knowledgeable about financial matters.

By executing a Power of Attorney for Personal Care, when you are unable to manage your own personal care, the person named in it is permitted to make personal care decisions for you, including to withhold consent to medical treatment on your behalf if you are unable to do so yourself and the person named is also required to follow your last known wishes in making those decisions. Your attorney should be someone you trust completely to act responsibly and follow your instructions. Do you want a specific instruction that you do not wish to be sustained on life support in the event of an incurable injury, disease or illness regarded as terminal?  YES  NO
